Gothard Arntzen, 82, Escanaba architect and head of one of the community's most prominent families, died Sunday at 12:45 a. m. at St. Francis Hospital. Mr. Arntzen, who had been in ill health for more than a year, was taken to the hospital Friday afternoon from his home, 820 S. 16th St.

Mr. Arntzen was born in Alstahaug, Norway Aug. 16, 1871, the son of Arnt and Karen Arntzen. He received his education in Norway and came to the United States in October, 1899, settling directly in Escanaba where he has resided continuously since.

For a time Mr. Arntzen was engaged in the contracting business with his brother, A. M. Arntzen. Later a third brother, Richard, joined the partnership and the three established the Arntzen Brothers Lumber Company.

Funeral Wednesday

In 1917 Gothard left the partnership and went into business as an architect. He engaged in that profession until recently when his health failed. The business has been taken over by two of his sons, Walter and Arne.

The body will lie in state at the Anderson Funeral Home Tuesday from 3:30 to 10 p. m. At noon Wednesday the body will be removed to the Immanuel Lutheran Church where it will lie in state until the funeral services Wednesday at 2:30. Rev. Johannes Ringstad will officiate at the funeral services and interment will be made in Lakeview cemetery.

Mr. Arntzen was a member of the American Institute of Architects, both the national chapter and state chapter, and also was a member of the Michigan Association of Architects.

People Weary Of Yak-Yaking, McCarthy Admits

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), embroiled in one of the most furious fights of his career, left Wisconsin Sunday after a weekend in his home state, tenaciously determined to fight communism his way "as long as I am in the United States Senate."

Since he flew in here during an icy gale Friday night with his wife, the senator:

1. Offered to step aside temporarily as chairman of his Senate investigating subcommittee and testify himself on the Cohn-Schne-Stevens controversy.

2. Said he would ask author William Buckley to pinch-hit for him in a television answer to an Edward R. Murrow program critical of McCarthy. (Murrow later refused the substitution.)

3. Told an audience of businessmen he would press his investigations into alleged internal communism no matter "how high or low those are who scream at what we are doing."

4. Scored the "shouting and hubbalooboo of the past week" and told newsmen he wants answers to his questions in Maj. Irving Peress case.

"I think American people are getting awfully sick and tired of the constant yak-yaking to the effect that we haven't been gentle enough with the Communists and their protectors," said McCarthy in a press conference at Appleton shortly before flying back to Washington.

Main Issues Obscured

"The shouting and hubbalooboo of the past week have taken the tension away from the question to which we still are awaiting an answer: Who in the military promoted Maj. Irving Peress when they knew he was a Communist, kept him from overseas duty, gave him a plush job in the United States, and an honorable discharge?"

That same determination was voiced by McCarthy in his Saturday night speech before a Manitowish Junior Chamber of Commerce gathering.

"As long as I am in the United States Senate, and I hope it is a long time," he said, "I don't intend to treat traitors like gentlemen. They are not gentlemen."

Deckerville Man Admits Slaying

DECKERVILLE (AP)—State police expected to question John Brabant again Tuesday about mysterious circumstances in the deaths of his first and third wives.

Officers said the 77-year-old retired farmer admitted the hatchet slaying of his third wife last Thursday.

They want to find out more about the 1951 death of his first wife, who reportedly drowned in a rain barrel.

Police said Brabant insisted he knew nothing of the 1951 drowning and told of having a memory lapse and severe headaches at that time.

Brabant, officers said, showed similar characteristics Thursday when questioned about the hatchet death of his third wife, Flora, 76. Brabant stood mute Saturday when arraigned before Sandusky Justice Nole E. Babcock and was returned to the county jail to await examination March 23.

Russians Vote; Only One Slate

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union had a new parliament—the Supreme Soviet—today. The government said returns from the national elections Sunday "show that the Soviet people voted unanimously for candidates of the Communist and nonparty bloc."

These were the only candidates on the ballots to fill the 1,331 seats in the two chambers—the Council of Nationalities and the Council of the Union.

Approximately 110 million persons were eligible to vote. Formal results—what percentage of the electorate voted and "endorsed the candidates and the program of the Community party"—will probably be announced Tuesday.

It was the first Supreme Soviet election in four years.

Premier Georgi Malenkov, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, party chief Nikita Khrushchev and other leaders all were candidates.

Georgia Mops Up Tornado Ruins; Eight Dead; Loss Over 23 Million

ATLANTA (AP)—A small army of soldiers, airmen and civilians today formed a cleanup task force in the wake of weekend tornadoes which killed eight persons in central and west Georgia and did more than 23 million dollars damage to property.

Three separate twisters whirled out of the night Saturday and carried their lethal force into Macon, where three died; to a rural area near the central Georgia city, killing three others; and to Lawson Air Force Base, adjoining Ft. Benning, where two more were killed.

Four of the dead were children. Seventy persons were injured and 23 hospitalized.

The tornadoes slammed into the same general areas where similar storms killed 18 and piled up damage exceeding 30 million dollars less than a year ago.

The return visit of the Southland's spring scourge came a few hours after the Weather Bureau lifted a tornado alert.

West Georgia was hit first. What appeared to be the largest of the tornadoes tore a path 600 yards wide across the air base near Columbus. The powerful winds overturned several giant C119 Flying Boxcars. Eight of the 35-ton craft were destroyed and this contributed heavily to the 20-million-dollar damage estimate at Lawson Field and at Ft. Benning, the nation's largest Army base.

Twin tornadoes took parallel paths through the Macon area three hours later and accounted for most of the dead and injured. Macon hospitals still house 15 persons and 35 others were dismissed after treatment.

Macon police estimated damage at three million dollars in Bibb County.

Speech By Nixon Saturday Draws Varied Reaction

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon's statement of the Eisenhower administration case has been praised by a Republican as what the party needed to "get down to business," while a top Democrat said it just echoed his criticism.

Between these two poles ranged wide reaction to the talk nationally telecast Saturday night, much of which was obviously aimed at Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Nixon took occasion also to speak up for the administration's "new look" in defense and diplomatic policies and to affirm that President Eisenhower is the effective leader of the government and party.

Won't Coddle Traitors

But most of the comment centered on such Nixon statements as that "men who have in the past done effective work exposing communism . . . have, by reckless talk and questionable methods, made themselves the issue" and thereby helped "those whose primary objective is to defeat the Eisenhower administration."

McCarthy himself declined direct comment, but he said in a speech in Manitowish, Wis., "I don't care how high or how low those are who scream at what we are doing. . . I don't intend to treat traitors like gentlemen."

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.), who had said McCarthy intentionally or not is "doing his best to shatter" the GOP, termed the Nixon speech "the kind of a talk that should enable us Republicans to get down to business."

Glib Attack Answered

But Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate whose criticism a week earlier was the occasion for Nixon's address, said, "At Miami Beach I said that McCarthyism was injuring the government, dividing the nation and diverting the attention from the real issues. Last night Vice President Nixon . . . said precisely the same thing."

Republican comment ran along these lines:

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate GOP leader, "It was a very constructive speech."

Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, temporary president of the Senate, a "calm comprehensive report . . . which answered Mr. Stevenson's glib attack . . . I disagree with him (Nixon), however, when he infers that the dangers of communism are being exaggerated."

National Chairman Leonard Hall: Nixon made it "amply clear . . . the Eisenhower administration is engaged on a program of great and lasting benefits to every American, and it will not be diverted by side issues."

Democrats Find Fault

Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell acknowledged on a television program Sunday night that Nixon's speech was "a

Traffic Tragedy Takes 5 Lives

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One traffic crash killed five persons—including the parents and one child of a Flint family—in a weekend that counted a Michigan toll of 14 lives.

Two children were orphaned in the crash which took the five lives. One of the dead was a minister.

All five were killed in a three-car collision on US10 Saturday three miles south of Grand Blanc.

The victims included Harrell Casey, 32, of Flint; his wife, Genevieve, 30, and a son, Patrick, 4.

Also killed were the Rev. Kenneth R. Bowman, 22, Detroit and Edgar B. Liles, 20, of Wilberforce, Ohio.

Two other sons of the Casey family, Gary, 6, and Larry, 5, were hospitalized.

The crash occurred, police said, when the Rev. Bowman's car force the Casey auto into another.

Maxine Dearing, 54, of Pontiac, a school teacher, was killed in a two-car collision miles south of Alpena on US23 Sunday. Four other persons were injured.

Joseph E. Trotter, 59, of Battle Creek, was fatally injured Friday night when he was struck by a car while crossing a street in Detroit's suburban Livonia.

Coffee Burglar Gets Police Ride

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A self-assured burglar walked into the W. D. Donaldson home Sunday night, went to the basement and picked up two large boxes containing 20 pounds of coffee.

Then he went upstairs, police reported, and telephoned for a taxi. While waiting for the cab, he helped himself to a bottle of pop and sandwiches he found in the refrigerator.

Donaldson, unknown to the intruder, had been awakened by the noise, and crept downstairs and telephoned police.

When headlights stopped before the house, the man picked up the coffee and walked out to the car. "Where are you going?" he was asked.

"I'm heading north," said the man.

"No you're not," said Detectives Sherman Smith and Park Oides.

The man, identified as Harold Thompson, 42, was taken to the city jail where he was charged with burglary and larceny.

Reds Stage Savage Battle In Indonesia

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—The French parachuted reinforcements today into the Dien Bien Phu fortress as the Communist-led Vietminh hurled thousands more troops into the savage battle to drive the French out of northwest Indochina.

The rebels bombarded the fortress with artillery before they launched their new attack.

Garrison Reinforced

As the violent battle raged on its second day, the French in Saigon announced that a battalion of French and Vietnamese paratroopers had jumped onto the Dien Bien Phu airstrip to reinforce the French garrison.

Other reinforcements were airlifted from Hanoi.

The French said their forces had the "situation well in hand" and were holding solidly against the "very violent" rebel attack.

A French spokesman predicted the fighting would last several days.

Attackers Mowed Down

A three-hour cease-fire interrupted the fighting Sunday morning while both rebels and French carried their dead and wounded from the battlefield. The French claimed at least 1,000 rebels killed in the initial assault Saturday night and early Sunday, and admitted their own losses were "appreciable."

The fighting resumed at noon Sunday with a heavy rebel bombardment of the strongly fortified, French-held plain in the heart of the Thai tribal country.

Then, as they had on Saturday, wave on wave of screaming, bugle-blowing rebel troops surged forward against the bristling barbed wired barricades ringing the French positions.

French mobile artillery, tanks, mortars and heavy machinegun and rifle fire cut down the Vietminh by the scores. Fighters and bombers roared overhead, mowing a wide swath in the ranks of the wildly charging rebels.

The Michigan representative still is in a Washington hospital, the worst hurt of five congressmen wounded in the shooting spree.

A newsletter from Bentley's office said he appears to be on the mend. It added that in the first few days after the shooting "a deluge of letters and telegrams poured in from Michigan and many other states."

The newsletter said that "more than 1,000 letters have been received from law-abiding citizens of Puerto Rico who have been so shamefully represented by a small lunatic minority."

Physicians at Casualty Hospital said Bentley was "more comfortable" following the removal of fluid from his right lung, which was punctured by the bullet.

He had difficulty in breathing Saturday night, doctors said, but was relieved by a "minor surgical procedure." The surgery was performed in his room with a local anesthetic. Doctors said Bentley's condition was "serious but steadily improving."

IN TROUBLE — A Senate subcommittee has filed a report asking that Sen. Dennis Chavez (D., N. M.) be ousted from Congress. Chavez defeated Patrick Hurley in the 1952 election, and Hurley contested the election on charges of fraud. If the Senate adopts the report, the Senator would lose his seat.

Outright Break In G.O.P. Ranks To Be Avoided

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican leaders faced critical decisions today on strategy for ending the war between Sen. McCarthy and the Army and avoiding an outright break between the Wisconsin Republican and the Eisenhower administration.

McCarthy and GOP leaders seemed agreed that a showdown at which he and top Army officials would testify under oath is in order to get at the truth in the welter of charges and counter-charges.

Nixon Sounds Keynote

But where and when to stage it—and whether publicly or behind closed doors—remained undecided.

One major question was: Should the investigation be entrusted to McCarthy's own subcommittee?

After Vice President Nixon's speech Saturday night, with its passages obviously directed at McCarthy, the feeling spread on Capitol Hill that a showdown must come soon.

Nixon said "reckless talk and questionable methods" in fighting communism played into the hands of opponents of the administration and that the administration insists procedures used both in the executive and legislative branches must be fair and proper.

Accused of Blackmail

The feud flared anew last week with publication of an official Army report to senators alleging that McCarthy and an aide on his Senate investigations subcommittee had put pressure on the Army to get special favors for Pvt. G. David Schine, a drafted former member of the subcommittee's staff. The report specifically accused the subcommittee's chief counsel, Roy Cohn, who is a pal of Schine, of backing such demands with threats.

"Blackmail," McCarthy retorted. He accused Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens and John G. Adams, Army general counsel, of trying to use the drafting of Schine as "a club" against further probing by the subcommittee into McCarthy's charges of Reds in the Army.

McCarthy has offered to repeat his charges against the Army under oath before his own subcommittee. Returning Sunday night from a speaking trip to Wisconsin, he told reporters, "We will insist on our committee taking care of its own affairs."

Ferguson Heads Committee

That seemed to be pretty close to how front-rank Senate GOP leaders thought it should be handled, but Sen. Mundt (R-SD), next senior Republican member of the subcommittee, insisted "the public interest would be better served and the country would be better satisfied if the matter is turned over to a different committee."

The Senate Republican Policy Committee scheduled a meeting

Income Tax Cut Plan Dangerous

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, was reported by congressional leaders today to feel that personal income tax cuts being urged by Democrats would endanger America's economic stability.

The President, who will address the nation on taxes tonight over major radio and TV networks, discussed his tax views with top legislative leaders for about an hour at the White House.

House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.), talking with reporters afterward, said tax cuts already made by the administration this year and those contemplated during the rest of the year total about seven billion dollars.

He added that Eisenhower believes that to "dump another 2½ billion dollar cut on top of that would be straining it too far financially."

The House will take up on Wednesday a tax revision bill calling for about $1,300,000,000 in tax reductions without touching the personal income levy rate. House Democrats plan to propose that income levies be cut by raising individual exemptions $100 a year—from $600 to $700 for each dependent.

Russia Told Too Much About U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—America's top intelligence executive said today, "We tell Russia too much."

Director Allen W. Dulles of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) declared in an interview in the weekly newsmagazine U. S. News and World Report:

"We Americans publish a great deal in our scientific and technical journals and in congressional hearings. . . .

"I would give a good deal if I could know as much about the Soviet Union as the Soviet Union can learn about us by merely reading the press."

"Sometimes I think we go too far in what our government gives out officially and in what is published in the scientific and technical field. We tell Russia too much."

Dulles, a brother to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, said U. S. intelligence evaluation is now set up so as to prevent any military surprises, such as the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941 or the Red Chinese intervention in Korea in 1950.

Dutch Prince Wants To Again Fly Plane Which Quit At Sea

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands flies to the flight test center at Edwards Air Force Base today hoping to again fly the plane that quit on him over the Pacific.

The visit will complete a four-day tour of southern California aviation installations by the handsome 42-year-old husband of Queen Juliana.

Saturday, while he was flying in a propeller-driven T28B trainer, the engine sputtered and stopped about six miles out over the Pacific. Lt. Col. A. T. House, U. S. Air Force plant representative at North American Aviation, brought the plane in for a successful dead stick landing.

The prince asked for another trip in the same plane after commenting, "There was no danger of swimming."

killed and millions of dollars of damage was done at the base. This photo was taken by Robie Ray of the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer. (AP Wirephoto)

Fires Cause Riot

SEVILLE, Spain (AP)—University students overturned two streetcars, broke windows of others and fought a pitched battle with police here today in protest over higher fares. Several students were hurt by blows from night sticks.

The demonstration began in protest over a 10 centimos (about a quarter of a cent) increase, which brought streetcar fares to slightly more than one cent.

Thin Ice Seen As Real Danger For Fishermen

Commercial fishermen today were risking worse disaster on thin Little Bay de Noc ice in an effort to recover pound and gill nets valued at an estimated $30,000 which were tripped or carried away when ice moved out of the Bay Friday night.

An appeal has been made to the U. S. Coast Guard to send its helicopter from Traverse City to Escanaba to stand by while the fishermen work at recovering their nets today and tomorrow.

Lloyd Hulett of the U. S. Coast Guard lighthouse station here today said that about 30 fishermen are working on ice that is cracked and considered unsafe.

In response to appeals from the fishermen, John Chriske, district conservation supervisor, contacted the Coast Guard and asked that the helicopter come to Escanaba for a couple days.

Twelve or 13 pound nets, each valued at between $1,500 and $2,000, and about 400 gill nets valued at $25 each, were lost to the fishermen when the ice moved out of the mouth of Little Bay de Noc under the force of strong northeast winds.

Roy Jensen of Jensen & Jensen, Escanaba, said fishermen are making an effort to recover nets that were tripped when the ice went out on a line extending from near Portage Point to Stonington. Conditions under which the fishermen are working are considered extremely dangerous.

The helicopter is requested because of the possibility the ice field on which they are working may break off and drift out into Green Bay. Unless the nets are recovered before further breakup occurs the loss in equipment will be larger.

Community College Plans Abandoned At Iron Mountain

IRON MOUNTAIN — Because the public response to repeated efforts for a Community College here has been practically nil, the Iron Mountain board of education has tabled the proposal for this year.

It was brought out that a recent questionnaire, asking specifically for prospective enrollment if a College were established here, brought only six replies. Similarly, it was pointed, editorials and other publicity relative to the plan encouraged very little discussion or inquiry. "It appears," Supt. John Jelsch said, that there is very little public interest in the plan by parents, business men or the young people for whom the plan was proposed. Therefore, no further steps toward a Community College will be taken during the current year, it was decided."

Suggests Erection Of New Jail For Menominee County

MENOMINEE—Menominee county can do better erecting a new jail than attempting to remodel the present one, William Nestle, Lansing state jail inspector for the Michigan Department of Corrections, told the building and grounds committee of Menominee County Board of Supervisors.

Nestle came here with Detective Leonard Bartelli, Marquette, of the State Fire Marshall's Department to inspect the jail with the committee to determine what remodeling would have to be done to meet state safety requirements. The jail has been condemned by the state as unsafe.

Nestle said remodeling of the jail, which was built in 1886, might cost as much as $40,000 to $50,000, and then all the county would have would be an old building. He said there is not space available in the jail now to install the modern equipment which is needed.

Nestle estimated a new jail would cost about $190,000. The committee discussed a proposal that county and city officials meet on a plan for construction of a joint unit to serve the police units of both city and county.

Switch To Warm Weather Slow

The effects of Saturday's spell of rough weather are still to be seen in the slowly receding drifts and though bright weather is prevailing today and will continue tomorrow, the storm is still a controlling factor in the north central part of the country, says S. E. Decker, local weather observer.

Below freezing temperatures of this morning will continue tomorrow and the rise later on in the day will be moderate.

Yesterday's high during the day was 27. This morning's low was 16 with a prospect of rising to about 30 this afternoon. Tomorrow's temperature is expected to be even lower—about 11.

Most of today and tomorrow will be partly cloudy. A moderation in temperatures is indicated for later in the week.

Low readings over the central states this morning ranged from zero at Huron, S. D., 8 at Park Falls, Wis., 10 at Spencer, Ia. to the middle 20s in northern Texas and 45 at Brownsville, Tex. Frost or freezing temperatures occurred in the northern parts of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia.

Jackson, Miss., with 29 set a new low record there for so late in spring; only last Thursday the same station reported a new record high for so early in the year.

This morning's surface weather chart shows a strong high pressure ridge, running north and south from west of Hudson Bay in Canada down across the Red River of the North Valley to the Texas-Louisiana boundary that will cause continued fair and rather cool weather at Escanaba.

Effective noon today, March 15, and until further notice, normal loadings will be allowed on concrete based state trunk lines in the Lower Peninsula.

Restricted loadings still are in effect on blacktop, and gravel state trunk lines in the Lower Peninsula.

It is estimated there are about 20,000 milk distributing companies in the United States.

San at Powers Will Not Close

There is no plan nor intention to close Pinecrest Sanatorium at Powers, Miss Loleta Sanford, office manager at Pinecrest, emphasized this morning.

Saturday an Associated Press story reporting efforts of the Michigan Senate Appropriations Committee to reduce state tuberculosis expenses indicated that an appropriation of $3,000 to close down Pinecrest Sanatorium is contained in an appropriation bill before the Legislature.

The tuberculosis hospital referred to, however, is not Pinecrest Sanatorium at Powers but a state-owned hospital of the same name at Oshkemo, Michigan in Kalamazoo County. The Oshkemo hospital is a 100-bed tuberculosis hospital that was once a private institution, later taken over by the state. Pinecrest Sanatorium at Powers is not a state-owned hospital.

Canadian Youth Is Held Here For Illegal Entry

George Chandler, an 18-year-old youth, who gave his address as Lakeview, Ont., was picked up by state police yesterday afternoon and held on a vagrancy charge which, after questioning turned out to be a case of illegal entry.

Chandler, carrying a bundle of clothes, was spotted thumbing a ride east just west of the city. When searched he was found to be entirely penniless and after questioning he stated that he, a brother and two other companions were driving to British Columbia in search of work. But somewhere along the way a misunderstanding had arisen and he had quit the party and was back tracking toward home.

He was held at the county jail here for the border patrol which called Sunday evening. The border patrolmen stated that should the youth's story prove to be true, he will be returned home without penalty, but a strict inquiry will have to be made before he is released.

MARQUETTE—The Conservation Commission had under consideration today a strongly worded telegram from the board of directors of the Northern Michigan Sportsmen's Association opposing attempts to have the summer bear season restored in the Upper Peninsula.

IRON MOUNTAIN—"Class A" television service will be provided to an area extending south and east of Green Bay; to the region including Escanaba and Iron Mountain in the Upper Peninsula, and to parts of lower Michigan by the new television station WMBV-TV now under construction at Marinette, according to an announcement received here. Meanwhile future installation and construction of television antennas within the city of Iron Mountain will be regulated by a new ordinance.

IRONWOOD—The city commission has authorized the city manager to investigate the possibility of having a private firm reassess the city. He was instructed to determine whether such firms are available, what the cost of such a reassessment would be, and approximately how long the job would take. Commissioner Walter Olson, who offered the resolution, said that the group should "do something to correct the discrepancies which appear to exist."

ISHPEMING—The Ishpeming city council has concurred in City Manager O. E. Stollen's recommendation that it accept the offer of A. Lindberg and Sons to dredge the Carp River at an approximate cost of $4,000. The action was taken at the council's monthly meeting. Stollen recommended to the council at the February meeting that the city should dredge the river from the outlet of the city's main sewer to the rapids to permit better flowage of sewage. He pointed out that the river has not been dredged since 1915.

Fluid Used For Cleaning Brushes Causes Flash Fire

KINGSFORD—Fumes from an inflammable liquid being used by a Kingsford man in the basement of his home to clean paint brushes, and which spread into three rooms and two clothes closets on the second floor of his home, burst into a flash-fire at 1 yesterday afternoon when ignited by heat from the furnace, and caused smoke and fire damage estimated by Kingsford fire chief, E. Jossens, at $1,800.

Jossens reported that Bert Juneau, 401 East Sagola, Breitung township, was cleaning paint brushes with turpentine in the basement of his one-story frame home. Unknown to Juneau, the fumes spread from the basement into the rooms upstairs. This inflammable vapor, Jossens reported, was ignited by heat from the furnace in the basement and the flash-fire resulted.

Later it was reported that the project may be in jeopardy because of the difficulty in securing the sponsor's required share of the cost.

About Coffee And Chairs

statistically, a cup of coffee is the least expensive and most routine part of a meal—requires the least equipment and preparation for the quantity produced. Yet, people will go out of their way to patronize a place that serves good coffee.

Without giving much thought to the subject—a chair—to most people, is just some place to sit. Yet, it is one of the principle factors in the amount and quality of work a desk man can turn out. How often does a person leave his desk just to get out of an uncomfortable chair?

A good chair will not only increase the work out-put and reduce maintenance cost, but increase employee moral and favorably impress those with whom you do business.

Yes, like a good cup of coffee, people are attracted to a good-looking, comfortable chair. It is no longer an incidental item to an informed person—it is a must in any office.

The Great Lakes Offer Cities Advantage In Supply Of Water

WHEN Green Bay voters last week rejected a proposal to tap the waters of Lake Michigan to provide a source of water for its residents, they undoubtedly had good and sufficient reasons to turn down the proposal.

Ultimately and inevitably, however, Green Bay will turn to Lake Michigan for its water. It may be soon or it may be years in the future but the time will certainly come when Green Bay and all cities on the Great Lakes will end their water problems by tapping the world's greatest source of fresh water.

This particular proposal that was rejected by the voters may have been undesirable. Certainly the voters thought that it was. But the underlying objective of the proposal was meritorious.

Green Bay is a growing community and it can not solve its water problem permanently by drilling more wells. The water table for ground water supply is falling, not only in the Green Bay area but throughout the Middle West.

Escanaba's experience in finding an adequate water supply is similar to Green Bay's. We turned from lake water to ground water, only to find that the wells could not deliver our requirements. We finally turned back to the lake as a source of supply and have not regretted the decision. Our water worries are over for a good many years to come.

Water is an essential community resource. We who live in the Great Lakes area are particularly fortunate that we have at our disposal an inexhaustible source of fresh water. It is a body of water so large that no conceivable demands could be placed upon it to jeopardize its continued availability.

There's No Security Against Fanatics

THERE is a popular notion that if we just take the right measures we can protect ourselves perfectly against Communists, spies, terrorists, and the like. Unhappily, no system of vigilance is perfect.

You may point to the Soviet Union and say that no terrorist plots have succeeded there. That is true. But we do not really know how many have been tried. Furthermore, in many instances such plots are hatched only when the product of success would be a significant change in a country's course of governing.

So far as we know today, the spirit of revolt necessary to bring about that change does not exist in Russia.

The story in Nazi Germany was different. A plot carried out in a country at war could produce a government that would sue for peace and change the picture mightily. So the incentive was great.

Germany was a police state like Russia. Government agents were everywhere. Their domestic spy network was organized on a neighborhood basis, and it led through the whole government structure itself. You could imagine no less likely place for a successful plot to overthrow the government.

Yet on July 20, 1944, a German general walked into Hitler's eastern headquarters carrying a bomb in a brief case. He planted it beneath a long, heavy table where Hitler was standing with other officers. When it exploded it did severe damage to the room, and wounded Hitler and other officers. Hitler escaped death only because the heavy table took the worst shock of the bomb.

If that can happen in so severely policed a country as Nazi Germany, one would be foolish to say it could not occur in America. The recent Puerto Rican shooting is a reminder that we must take better precautions than we do.

But we must not think that the multiplication of policemen and FBI agents will give us ironclad security against the fanatic and the plotter.

FREE RUSSIAN CULTURE (Soo News)

Most people living outside the Iron Curtain are unaware that a free Russian culture, untainted by Communism, is being kept alive outside Russia. It is financed and encouraged by the Ford Foundation's East European Fund.

The fund operates a publishing house and has printed forty-two books in Russian for distribution in thirty-six countries. Many of the books are those suppressed inside Russia. One hundred and thirty grants-in-aid have been made to former Soviet scholars for research on the Soviet Union itself. This effort is aimed at widening world knowledge of the Soviet Union.

The fund spent over one million dollars last year. It is money well spent for it is an investment in a Russian culture which is unpoisoned by Marxism and Stalinism. Without the fund this cultural contribution might be lost. Russia has produced many great writers and may again. The fund helps to assure those who would write in Russian a chance for free expression.

The least you can do for your own future is to put as much as you can into government bonds.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—After his famous encounter with Senator McCarthy, Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker angrily picked up the phone, called his superior, Lt. Gen. Withers Burress, and threatened to resign from the Army.

McCarthy had slapped Zwicker in the face with derisive insults, charging that he "lacked the brains of a five-year-old child"; should be "removed from any command"; was "unfit to wear that uniform"; was either dumb or dishonest.

"I don't have to take this!" exploded Zwicker afterward over the phone to his superior officer, and said he would give up his Army commission before, swallowing any more insults. Burress immediately telephoned the army chief of staff, Gen. Matt Ridgway, about Zwicker's threat to resign.

Ridgway considered the entire McCarthy attack serious enough to call in his top officers who agreed that McCarthy was undermining Army morale. Zwicker had gritted his teeth and taken McCarthy's abuse for refusing to disobey orders. Now it was up to the Army, they decided, to come to Zwicker's defense. This was one factor that led to Secretary Stevens' original stand against McCarthy.

Talking over the problem, some officers got to comparing Zwicker's war record with McCarthy's. Ironically, McCarthy got elected to the senate in the first place by wounding up and down Wisconsin, affecting a phony limp and posing as a Marine hero.

MCCARTHY'S REAL RECORD

But the actual record shows that, while Zwicker was winning 13 combat decorations including the Purple Heart, McCarthy didn't earn a single combat medal. His alleged wound came from a sailor's prank during an initiation ceremony crossing the equator; and during the height of the Pacific war, McCarthy resigned from the Marine Corps to go home and run for the senate.

Here is the complete record of the man who impugned the patriotism of General Zwicker.

When McCarthy first resigned from the Marine Corps he tried to fast-talk the Marines out of a couple of air medals. These are always awarded as a matter of routine for every 10 air missions. McCarthy claimed 30 missions, but the Marine Corps, checking the records, could find record of only nine. Even these were flown as an "observer" in other words, as a passenger. So McCarthy's application was turned down.

Long after the war had ended and McCarthy had become an important senator, he applied for his air medals again. At first they again turned him down. But right after Eisenhower's election, the brass hats discreetly chose to ignore the record and take the senator's word for the number of missions he had flown.

At his request, McCarthy was formally "decorated" with the air medals at a military ceremony in his office, to which reporters and photographers were carefully invited.

MCCARTHY'S "WOUND"

McCarthy also promoted a commendation for allegedly bravely "refusing to be hospitalized" though suffering from a "severe leg injury." This was awarded on the recommendation of a Marine crony, Maj. E. E. Munn, who wrote: "On 22 June 1943 Captain McCarthy suffered a broken and burned foot and leg. He, however, refused to be hospitalized and continued doing an excellent job . . . working on crutches."

A routine inspection of Navy records, however, shows that McCarthy was crossing the equator on the U. S. S. Chanderleur on June 22, 1943. His shipmates report that McCarthy injured his foot all right, but not in action against the Japs. He was "wounded" during the traditional King Neptune hazing ceremony while crossing the equator. Here is how it happened, in the words of one of his buddies:

"McCarthy was nearly through his initiation when he was hurt. He was going down a ladder with a bucket fastened to his foot when he slipped. His other foot caught on a lower rung—an iron pipe a few inches from the steel bulkhead—and he fell backward, injuring his foot . . . after my initiation was over and I had rinsed the stain from my shaved head, I went to the sick bay to see how Joe was getting along. They had decided that three bones were broken."

Thus McCarthy became the only Marine in history to be awarded a hero's commendation for crossing the equator.

Finally, while General Zwicker was storming the beaches at Normandy and leading the 38th infantry regiment across the Rhineland, McCarthy was wangling to get out of the Marines to go home and electioneer. He was granted one furlough, during which he went back to Wisconsin and campaigned for the senate—contrary to Marine regulations. In this first try, however, he lost to Sen. Alexander Wiley.

A few weeks later, McCarthy applied for another 30-day leave to campaign for reelection to the circuit court bench. This was in October, 1944, at the height of the Pacific war. However, the Marine Corps turned thumbs down, gave him his choice of fighting or resigning.

Though McCarthy had announced to the press in 1954, "I want to join for the duration," he handed in his resignation.

It was accepted Feb. 20, 1945, and McCarthy hurried home, displaying his phony limp to the voters; while his Marine buddies were still fighting the bloody battles for Saipan and Okinawa.

Hidden Heroes:

Men And Women Join Communist Ranks To Help Expose Menace

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (P)(NEA)—A few weeks ago an attractive young woman walked through the corridor of the Los Angeles adult school in which she had just enrolled. A classmate stepped quickly to her side and hissed into her ear: "Why don't you get out of here, you damn stool pigeon?"

For an instant the young lady's eyes blazed with anger. Then she relaxed, flashed her verbal attacker a saucy smile and strode on unconcerned.

The woman to whom these vitriolic words were addressed is Mrs. Marlane MacLane Kowall, daughter of movie actor Barton MacLane. She is a brand new member of one of the most exclusive groups in America—the handful of individuals who are known to have joined the Communist Party as undercover agents for the FBI.

The incident involving Mrs. Kowall is just the start of a bitter, ceaseless hazing she is in for from the Communist Party and fellow travelers.

A survey by NEA Service shows that some of these former undercover agents have suffered broken homes, financial loss, community disfavor and wrecked health to help expose the Communist menace in the U. S.

In some cases the public and community have forgotten the job these people have done for Uncle Sam. The Communist Party will never forget.

William G. Cummings of Toledo, Ohio, rated one of the most effective witnesses against the Communist conspiracy by the Justice Department, says:

"We're No. 1 on the Party's blacklist. If there should be a revolution we'd be the first ones to be shot. But that's why we did what we did, to make sure there will be no revolution in America."

The survey reveals an almost identical pattern of retaliation against these individuals. There's a never-ending program of mental harassment which includes anonymous threatening letters, telephone calls in the early hours of morning, insults softly-spoken on crowded corners, and dead rats thrown on the lawn.

The Commies have put roadblocks in the efforts of these people to make a living. They've struck back at their children in school and college. They've worked hard to blacken their character through clubs, churches and communities.

"The only restraint imposed on the Communists in their retaliation against us is the need to stay just short of making us public martyrs," Cummings explains. "This would hurt them more than what they gain inside the Party."

The motive of the Communist Party in this program is given by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover:

"This group represents a vital reservoir of information which we plan to continue to draw from in our fight against Communist subversion in the United States," he says.

By trying to destroy the credibility of the testimony of this group the Party is defending itself. Hoover pinpoints the motive of the Party for pure revenge against the group with this statement:

"Their testimony, along with that of such ex-Communists as Louis Budenz, Elizabeth Bentley, and John Lautner, starting with the first Smith Act trial of the top 11 Communists in New York, has enabled the Government to break the back of the Party in the U. S."

He reveals that in 11 Smith Act trials in the U. S. and Hawaii, 61 top leaders of the Communist

Their evidence has permitted the Subversive Activities Control Board to put an official Communist tag on numerous front organizations. The revelation of their activity has made scores of top Party workers flee the country, sever all connections with the Party, or commit suicide. It has forced the Party to take such desperate internal security measures that its subversive activity is seriously hampered.

Full details of how the FBI recruited these "hidden heroes" remain a secret. But generally it was because they had proved themselves firm anti-Communists but were in unique position, in liberal groups with a chance to infiltrate the Party. Their num-

AGE OF COMICS—When historians of the future get around to writing about the present century they will be confronted by a most unusual manifestation of contemporary art—the comic cartoon.

This is indeed the age of cartooning. The line drawing with its many variations appears in newspapers and magazines with increasing frequency. The medium is used to entertain, to sell, to caricature, and to inspire.

Most people think of cartoons only as humorous, however, and it is this field that attracts the most attention. The pleasurable habit of following the daily and weekly adventures of cartoon characters is enjoyed by millions of newspaper readers.

To meet this interest the trend is toward the publication of more cartoon features. The comics fan is never satisfied.

THE CHANGING STYLE—Americans took to the comics some 50 or 60 years ago with enthusiasm and several of the original cartoons have never lost favor.

While it is true that Happy Hooligan has been gone but not forgotten these many years, and Buster Brown is now only a memory of the button shoes era, some of the oldtimers in the comics field linger on.

Barney Google is still appearing in some of the larger newspapers by popular demand. So also are the Katzenjammer Kids (also known as the Captain and the Kids), and Winnie Winkle, to name a few.

Maggie and Jiggs another oldtimer, is largely replaced by man-and-wife situation comics of a less violent temper. Blondie, for example, uses feminine wiles rather than a rolling pin in taming Dagwood. Maggie would have slugged it out with Jiggs, and no holds barred.

THE STORY TELLERS—Greatest change in comics was the transition from daily situation strips to story-telling cartoons, with the story continued for weeks and sometimes for months.

Most of today's comic strips are the story-telling type. They give the reader a bit of the story each day, often bring in characters who have appeared weeks or even months and years before, and keep the reader curious as to what is to happen as the story develops.

Another change, presumably for the better since the comics "readers" like it, is the increasing emphasis on good drawing. Realism, rather than caricature, is the order of the day in the field of comic illustration.

But the element of suspense still holds the center of the cartoon stage. Each daily strip briefly reviews what has gone before, establishes a developing situation with a climax, and leaves the comics fans asking each other:

"I wonder what will happen to Li'l Abner (or Captain Easy, Mark Trail, Martha Wayne) tomorrow?"

CRIME AND SPACE—While some of the comics present more or less obvious moral or educational lessons, many of them rely upon sensationalism for their impact.

In this category are the crime and space comics in which the principal characters are constantly either pursuing or being pursued by denizens of the Underworld or of Planets from Outer Space.

Violence and crime and slinky villains of both sexes do battle with the law in back alleys and on atom-powered space ships. Heroes and heroines are either being tied to time-bombs or having their stratospheric underwear scorched by ray guns.

The word "comic" is a misnomer for these strips. The better word would be horrid.

OF MANY USES—The cartoon technique has, however, come to the fore within the past few years as a media for depicting stories from the Bible—aimed directly at teaching the young the Christian way of life.

Religious cartoons are also distributed to newspapers, largely through the initiative of religious news services. They are supplied on a cost basis.

Magazines are using more comic cartoons than ever before, and they pay well for original ideas effectively presented. Many of the cartoonists achieve national reputations and their work is popular in the field of advertising.

Incidentally, those who like the Poko comic strip will be interested in knowing they belong to the "intelligentsia"—the better educated upper-onethird of Americans, according to a survey conducted by one of the cartoon syndicates. So the comics have their fans at all intellectual levels.

The Doctor Says... Medicine Without Doctor's Advice Can Have Serious Results

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Again and again correspondents indicate that they are taking some active drug or medicine without any advice. This is a situation which frequently causes trouble.

Q—Could it injure my health for me to take thyroid tablets to reduce? I do not have thyroid trouble, but find it easy to gain weight. I also enjoy sweets more than I should.

H. L. D.

A—The thyroid tablets contain active hormone substances which may affect your heart and your nervous system as well as other functions. It should not be taken unless there is reason. Fewer doctors today feel it is of much value for purposes of reducing. I fear that the last remark on your enjoyment of sweets gives the clue to your gain in weight. If you can keep the sweets down you will probably lose, but taking thyroid tablets is not a safe and easy way.

Q—I should like to know if working in paint, cleaning fluids, or other solutions such as turpentine would be likely to make a woman sterile?

S. K.

A—Many substances in paints or cleaning fluids have certain dangerous qualities, and over-exposure to them should be avoided on general principles. So far as I know there is little evidence that these substances would lead specifically to sterility.

Q—My mother has a varicose ulcer on her leg which will not heal. She recently had an operation and the varicose veins were tied, but the ulcer is no better. She has tried various ointments.

Mrs. S.

A—The operation on the varicose veins should be helpful in treatment, but evidently this is not enough. Keeping the legs up might help, but in all probability your mother will need one of the several special treatments which have been found quite successful for varicose ulcers. The choice of method and exact treatment will, of course, have to be under the direction of her physician.

Q—Can you help me? I am in a frenzy because I have vitiligo and want to know if my children will ever have it.

Mrs. M. S.

A—Vitiligo, or leukoderma is a harmless loss of pigment from certain roundish or irregular areas of the skin. It is utterly foolish to be in a frenzy because one's children might develop the same thing when they are older. If the skin specialist considers it desirable these spots can be covered over by a commercial preparation and thus become hardly noticeable even if on a conspicuous part of the body such as the face.

Bikini Atoll Once More Is Due For Atom Test

WASHINGTON—After nearly eight years Bikini, a placid Pacific atoll surrounded by blue-green waters, soon again will become a testing place for man's most frightful weapons.

In July, 1946, the eyes of the world were focused on the coral lagoon as two atom bombs played havoc with an anchored flotilla of old warships.

Shortly the United States will begin a new series of tests, some for development of the dread hydrogen bomb, vastly more potent than the atom explosives of 1946. And again Bikini will play a part, says the National Geographic Society.

Planes, Ships on Patrol

For some time American planes and ships have patrolled the 3-mile-deep ocean off the palm-fringed island. Already units of Task Force 7, which will conduct the experiments, have converged on Bikini and Eniwetok atolls, both part of the extensive Pacific proving grounds for nuclear weapons.

On Bikini hundreds of carpenters, plumbers, electricians and other artisans have returned once again. The atoll's 167 native inhabitants voluntarily were moved away eight years ago, first to Rongerik, and later to Kili Island, 500 miles away.

Hardly a trace of the 1946 damage can now be seen. Steel wreckage has been cleared off. The once-scarred coconut and breadfruit trees sway as easily in the warm, easterly breezes as they did before the atom era.

Lagoon waters, less than 200 feet deep, again are teeming with life. Rock formations retain no evidence of radio-activity. The gleaming beaches appear as inviting as those of other tropic isles.

More than 4,700 miles south-west of San Francisco, Bikini atoll is 190 miles east of Eniwetok, where most U. S. atom bombs and several hydrogen devices have been tested. South toward the equator, 800 miles away, string the Marshall Islands.

Twenty isles, hardly lifting their heads above sea level, form the Bikini group. The largest are Bikini on the northeast, Enyu, Namu and Enirik. The atoll is 25 miles long, 15 miles wide. In all, land area covers less than three square miles out of 280 encompassed by the entire atoll.

Entrance to Lagoon

Nine-mile-wide Enyu Channel opening to the southeast, has long served as the lagoon's entrance. Before 1946 it admitted the natives' outrigger canoes to calm waters.

Through the channel the Germans brought their ships to rest before World War I. They lost Bikini (called Escholtz) during that conflict. Later the Japanese took control. They named the atoll Bikinni.

What fate awaits the little islands of Bikini? The precise answer is a closely guarded secret in Washington. But high authorities have made this clear:

If a hydrogen explosion takes place over one of the smaller islands it will disappear into the sea. Such an experiment was conducted in 1952 on one of the Eniwetok isles. When the cloud of smoke and gas had blown away, the island had been obliterated. In its place the ocean washed into a crater a full mile in diameter and 175 feet deep.

Belgium Third Nation To Ratify EDC Pact

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Belgium completed parliamentary ratification of the European Defense Community treaty Friday. She is the third of the six prospective members of the projected alliance to do so.

The Netherlands has already signed and sealed her ratification of the treaty, which would line up West German troops with Dutch, Belgian, French, Italian and Luxembourgian soldiers in a unified command.

West Germany's Parliament has approved the treaty, but its signature by President Theodor Heuss is being held up until constitutional questions are ironed out.

France, Italy and Luxembourg have yet to act.

GROWING SPIRITUALLY

By E. STANLEY JONES

II Tim. 4:2-5 (R.S.V.)

FAIR-WEATHER CULTS

There is a passage in Acts 27:8 which tells us of Paul on his journey to Rome coming to a Cretan harbor called "Fair Havens," but it was "badly placed for wintering in." It was a fair-weather harbor with a beautiful name, but it was badly placed—couldn't protect against winter winds and storms. Many people take refuge in cults and movements which bear lovely names like "Fair Havens," but they are "badly placed for wintering in." They can't stand up against the rugged facts of sin and death and disaster.

If the fair-weather cults are proving inadequate and leaving men homeless and wandering from one to the other, then the neo-orthodoxy of today leaves one in the lurch, strangely enough, for the same reason. They both turn you toward yourself—one to discover your goodness, your latent divinity; the other to discover your badness.

It is true that neo-orthodoxy preaches the gospel as a means of forgiveness for this pervasive sinfulness. It preaches the gospel, but as someone said of a leading exponent, "He preaches the gospel, but always as a postscript." The emphasis is on the sinfulness of man even after grace has taken hold of him. Someone has said that neo-orthodoxy reverses the verse of Paul: "Where sin abounded grace did much abound," and puts it: "Where grace abounded, sin did more abound." The emphasis is upon the sinful self.

Dr. A. J. Muste gives this penetrating comment:

In Neo-orthodoxy when we become obsessed with human helplessness and human corruption instead of being caught up in the transcending of them by the grace of God, we are still preoccupied with self, still self-centered and therefore still self-righteous. If we do not end with the experience of the grace and power of God as that which overcomes and blots out our preoccupation with our sinful selves, we are but giving another demonstration of the pretension and corruption of man, not of the grace of God.

We must end not with self-discovery, nor with self-condemnation, but with grace.

O Father I thank Thee that where sin abounded, grace did much more abound. And that grace is for me. Amen.

AFFIRMATION FOR THE DAY: I am a man of Grace. Therefore, I must be a gracious man. I will be.

PARIS (AP)—A Paris paper printed this anecdote, which it said was true, illustrating the French attitude toward love.
A master of ceremonies, trying to enliven a party, posed the question: "What is love?"
"I don't know," replied a young pretty woman. "I haven't been unfaithful to my husband yet."

The RIGHT Unemployment Compensation Bill Can Still Be Enacted . . . IF YOU ACT NOW

The Michigan Senate has passed an Unemployment Compensation Bill. The Bill is so bad—so full of gimmicks—so inadequate to the needs of Michigan's workers and Michigan's business—that it must be defeated. The $41 maximum benefit held out as bait by the sponsors of this bill would actually be paid to only 1.6% of the unemployed—less than 1 out of 60. The Senate has brushed aside the recommendations of the President of the United States and other State and national leaders.

Governor Williams says: "If this bill passes in anything like its present form, I see no alternative but to take the question of adequate job insurance directly to the people . . . by initiating a constitutional amendment."

The battle now shifts to the House of Representatives. There is still hope that Michigan can have an adequate law . . . if Michigan will speak out!

The SENATE Disregarded THIS Advice: and passed THIS Bill:

ADVICE FROM PRESIDENT EISENHOWER . . . "Unemployment insurance is a valuable first line of defense against economic recession. . . . But even as a first defense, the system needs reinforcement." The President recommended that maximum benefits be raised " . . . so that payments to the great majority of the beneficiaries may equal at least half their regular earnings." The President also recommended that " . . . all of the states raise the potential duration of unemployment benefits to 26 weeks, and that they make the benefits available to all persons who have had a specified amount of covered employment or earnings."

ADVICE FROM THE FEDERAL ADVISORY COUNCIL ON EMPLOYMENT SECURITY . . . which recommended that " . . . as expeditiously as possible the maximum weekly benefit in each state be raised to an amount not less than 3/5 to 2/3 of average weekly earnings in covered employment."

ADVICE FROM THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR . . . Secretary of Labor Mitchell urged enactment of the Federal Advisory Council's recommendations as "supporting" the President's program. Assistant Secretary of Labor Siciliano said the Council's recommendations are "in line with" the President's recommendations.

ADVICE FROM THE GOVERNOR . . . Governor G. Mennen Williams sent Secretary Mitchell's letter to the State Legislature in a special message urging enactment of the President's recommendations.

ADVICE FROM THE MES C . . . The Michigan Employment Security Commission, composed of two labor and two management representatives, voted 3 to 0 to support the President's recommendations.

ADVICE FROM THE NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON STATE LABOR LEGISLATION . . . This Conference, convened by the Federal Government and consisting of delegates appointed by both Democratic and Republican governors of 41 states and territories, voted unanimous support of the President's recommendations.

ADVICE FROM MICHIGAN'S COMMUNITIES . . . The governing bodies of the following communities, representing 46% of the State's total population, have already adopted resolutions calling upon the Legislature to enact President Eisenhower's recommendations: Allen Park, Battle Creek, Big Rapids, Center Line, Dearborn, Detroit, East Detroit, Ecorse, Ferndale, Flint, Grand Rapids, Highland Park, Iron Mountain, Jackson, Lincoln Park, Ludington, Muskegon, Pontiac, River Rouge, Roseville, St. Clair Shores, Wyandotte, Ypsilanti, and Warren Township and Macomb County Board of Supervisors.

ADVICE FROM CONGRESS . . . The Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report, composed of both Republicans and Democrats from both Houses of Congress, commended the President for his unemployment compensation recommendations.

THE BILL PASSED BY THE SENATE IS CALLED THE "TEAHEN BILL". HERE ARE SOME OF ITS MOST GLARING FAULTS:

- The $41 maximum benefit held out as bait by the sponsors of this bill would actually be paid to only 1.6% of the unemployed—less than 1 out of 60.
- More than half of the unemployed workers would get no increase at all. More than a third of the remainder would get only one or two dollars.
- The increase in duration to 26 weeks would benefit less than half of the workers. There is nothing for those who now exhaust their benefits in less than 20 weeks. In 1953, more than 46% fell into this category. The remainder would not all receive the maximum. Many would get only one, two, or three weeks.
- Injured workers would be forced to abandon their claims for workmen's compensation.
- The Bill would deny or reduce benefits to workers compelled to retire by their employers.
- When the employer shuts down the plant for a "vacation," laid-off workers would be denied benefits even though they get no vacation pay.
- Workers who get back pay, call-in pay or severance pay would be disqualified.
- Low paid workers would be deprived of any benefits at all by increased minimum earning requirements.
- The Bill sets up so many eligibility hurdles that many unemployed will have to go on public relief or private charity.
- The Unemployment Compensation Fund would be raided for millions of dollars mainly for the benefit of a few giant corporations while taxes would be increased on other business.

Will Michigan's House of Representatives Listen to the PRESIDENT...the GOVERNOR ...the CITY GOVERNMENTS...the PEOPLE?

There is no question that the great majority of Michigan's people and Michigan's business and Michigan's agriculture want higher unemployment compensation and increased duration. There is $439,000,000 in the Unemployment Compensation Fund for this purpose. The people of Michigan do not want the taxes on their homes and businesses increased to pay for public welfare, while a few giant corporations get their unemployment compensation taxes reduced. This question is now squarely up to the House of Representatives. Time still remains for you to tell your Representative that you want an up-to-date, adequate, equitable unemployment compensation law.

Play A Horn And Join Marines, Father Said

By W. G. ROGERS

Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—Play a horn and join the Marines.

That advice got the present U. S. Marine band its leader, Lt. Col. William F. Santelmann.

The advice came from his father. The two, father and son, have had sort of a corner on this famous band. The father served in it for 38 years, many of them as leader; and the son is now in his 31st year in band uniform, 14 of them as leader.

Young William began as a violinist. Born in Washington, he went to public schools there, studied at the Washington College of Music, and the New England Conservatory.

While violins are used for concert work, a bandsman must tootle the horn as well as saw a fiddle. So the young man took the advice to heart.

"There's nothing like the band!" That's the enthusiastic opinion today of the big, strapping conductor of the oldest government band, in continuous existence since 1798, though if anybody wants to argue, it can trace its history back still another quarter century.

Santelmann has been here, and in West Point, for the 20th annual convention of the American Bandmasters Association, which he has served as president for a year.

"What's a band got that an orchestra hasn't? It has a wider attraction for children, for one thing," he claims. "Band instruments are much easier to play. The bandsman wears a uniform, and parades are much more glamorous than concert-hall appearances."

The Marine Band travels two months every fall, covers 10,000 miles, so you must have seen the colorful aggregation and heard its programs. On tour it does strictly band music. It's an orchestra when invited to the White House.

"President Truman loved music," the colonel recalls. He doesn't tell about the Eisenhowers, he simply picks on Truman. He submitted a list of about 100 compositions to the new White House residents to have them check their preferences.

"And what did they check?" he asked breathlessly. He wouldn't say. He provides from half a dozen to perhaps 30 musicians for White House dinners, receptions, teas, lunches, garden parties — and that's where a violinist comes in handy. Depending on the season, there can be White House music every day or once every two weeks.

From the colonel down, no bandsman knows anything about a 40-hour week. There are rehearsals five mornings out of seven, and the players are on call 24 hours a day. To his official duties Santelmann adds the task of providing programs for Washington's famed Gridiron Club.

His players rank as staff, technical and master sergeants. If they join at 18, in 20 years they can retire on a handsome pension, he says. Uniforms, instruments and medical care are free. Many retired bandsmen came to New York to play with the National Orchestral Association, or wind up in sunny Florida blowing a horn or beating a drum for Shriners or some other association. In service, they live in their own homes; most of them are married.

Missionary Held Prisoner Speaker Here Wednesday

The Rev. F. Olin Stockwell, missionary of the Methodist Church who was held a prisoner of the Chinese for 23 months, part of the time in solitary confinement, on trumped-up charges of espionage, will be the guest-speaker at First Methodist Church in Escanaba Wednesday, March 17, at 7:30 p. m. Mr. Stockwell was released by train into Hong-kong on November 17, 1952, and two weeks later rejoined his family in Chicago.

Mr. Stockwell will speak on his experiences both as a missionary and as a prisoner, and on what life was like among the communists after the taking over by them of China's government.

"Mind Purging"

Mr. Stockwell was a missionary in Chengtu, West China, when the communists overran that city. He could have gone out before the entering army, but elected to remain and attempt to carry on his work. Some months later, however, he was arrested and after a communist trial, when he had no chance to defend himself, was sentenced to prison. Among other punishments, he was given a course in "mind purging" and in communist indoctrination.

A native of Perry, Okla., Mr. Stockwell is a member of a Methodist family that has given missionaries to China, India, Burma, and Argentina, and a number of ministers to the United States. He was educated at Oklahoma City College, Ohio Wesleyan University and Garrett Biblical Institute. He was ordained to the ministry in Oklahoma.

Began Service in 1925

Entering the missionary service of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church in 1925, Mr. Stockwell was assigned to China, and engaged in evangelistic work in the Foochow Conference of Fukien Province. Later he was transferred to West China and carried on evangelistic work, organizing churches and preaching points and conducting training conferences for Chinese ministers, besides preaching to large groups in both city and country regions, in Chengtu District, Szechuan Province. In this field of work he was considered one of the outstanding missionaries to China, and he had successfully built up the Christian community and constituency of his district when the communist civil disturbance began.

The public is cordially invited to hear Mr. Stockwell speak.

Margaret Utinsky Speaker At Women's Club Meet Wednesday

Margaret Utinsky, known internationally as "Miss U", and author of the book entitled "Miss U", one of the most fantastic stories to come out of World War II, will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Escanaba Woman's Club Wednesday, March 17, at 2:30 p. m. in Westminster Hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Utinsky, who was awarded the Medal of Freedom, highest award which Congress can bestow on a civilian, is considered one of the most brilliant platform speakers of the day.

At the outbreak of World War II she was stationed on the island of Corregidor in the Philippines where her husband was a U. S. Army engineer. When the Army and Navy wives were put aboard the transport Washington, last ship leaving the Philippines, she walked down the gang plank behind General Wainwright.

Red Cross Worker

Instead of returning to the States to spend the war years in safety and security, she obtained a forged passport as a Lithuanian, and with her background which included nurses' training, first worked with the American Red Cross and later after the fall of Corregidor with the Philippine Red Cross in Bataan.

Her purpose in working with the Philippine Red Cross was to make contact with the American prisoners who were working on the roads of Bataan. Because of this contact, Mrs. Utinsky was able to smuggle money, food, and medicine into the prison camps and hospitals. She was personally responsible for raising hundreds of thousands of dollars from religious orders and private citizens of Manila which she channeled to the POW's behind barbed wire.

Escaped From Manila

In 1943 Miss U was captured by the Japs on grounds of not only being an American but also having contact with American prisoners. She was taken to Fort Santiago where she was imprisoned for 32 days. The story of her torture during this period almost beggars description.

Following her escape from Fort Santiago, Miss U returned to Manila where she continued her work until September 21, 1944 when the U. S. Navy planes returned and bombed Manila. After a harrowing experience to get out of Manila (17 hours in a small boat in stormy weather to get across the Bay of Manila), Miss U joined the Second Regiment of Guerrillas. With this group Miss U not only carried on her nursing activities but also was commissioned a Lieutenant in the armed forces and, as the only white woman, fought shoulder to shoulder with the men.

Miss U returned to the United States in May, 1945 weighing 80 pounds. She was a patient for many months at Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C., Brooks General Hospital in San Antonio, Tex. and Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco.

The tea committee for Wednesday's club meeting includes Mrs. Mike Farrell, chairman, Mrs. T. R. Padgett, Mrs. Clarence Schrader, Mrs. Walter Pearson, Mrs. William J. Perkins, Mrs. W. P. Schultes, Mrs. H. H. Shepeck, Mrs. M. D. Perring and Mrs. Archie Plant.

League of Women Voters Meets Tonight

The League of Women Voters will meet at 8 this evening at Carnegie Public Library. Mrs. Victor Powers and Mrs. Guy Knutson will present a panel discussion on election law reforms.

Members of the bridal party were Mrs. Howard Anderson, matron of honor, Howard Anderson, best man, and Rodney Roa and Frank Gramm, ushers.

The bride wore a chapel length gown of Chantilly lace and satin with an overskirt of tulle and she carried a white Bible with a single orchid. Mrs. Anderson wore orchid tulle over taffeta and carried yellow carnations.

The reception was held at the Sportsman's Club. The newlyweds are making their home in Bell following a honeymoon at Palm Springs.

Toy Fair Features How-To-Do

The how-to-do-it craze has spread to the youngest generation, it is indicated by the 51st American Toy Fair, where buyers from all over the country select the contents of Santa's next Christmas pack.

This year the most successful toys stress the do-it-yourself theme, with cooking, housecleaning, carpentering, cartkinking and home beauty care taking top honors.

Another trend of increasing importance is the use of miniature packages of brand-name products in the new toy groups. Typical examples are: a cooking set with small cans of nationally advertised soups, together with the correct pans and recipes for preparing them; a baking set with brand-name cake mix and frosting packages, along with the newest wrinkle in miniature baking pans; a set including packaged chocolate and metal molds, with which a child can mold his own chocolate bunnies and other fauna; miniature trucks and automobiles bearing popular brand names in the motor industry.

Toy makers expect another record year, because of the booming U. S. birth rate, and predict total sales of close to a half billion dollars in 1954.

HOBBY CHEF (J.G.)... The male yen for cooking extends to the younger set this year. Brother and sister try out new miniature cooking sets shown at the American Toy Fair, complete with smiling chef doll.

Water Pollution Control Theme Of Wildlife Week

The Schoolcraft County Sportsmen's Club will join the State Wildlife Federation and National Wildlife Federation next week in focusing public attention on conservation problems. The occasion will be National Wildlife Week, which is sponsored annually by the National Wildlife and local affiliates.

Mervin White, president of the club, said special emphasis will be placed this year on water pollution control as one of America's most pressing natural resource problems. The primary purpose of National Wildlife Week, he explained, is to get more people thinking and doing something about the problem, thereby hastening a solution through public opinion and civic action.

Nationally and statewide, White said, "we are still losing ground in the pollution fight. Our population is mushrooming and industry is expanding its plant capacity now at a rate unprecedented in history. It takes 1400 gallons of clean water, for example, to produce a dollar's worth of steel, nearly 2,000 gallons for a dollar's worth of paper, he noted.

America needs more than 6,000 new municipal sewage plants or additions right now. The total waste discharged daily and untreated into American waters, from both municipal and industrial sources, is equivalent to the waste from 150,000,000 persons, the club points out.

Dallas Judge Insists That Man Leave Jail

DALLAS (AP)—A judge says he'll go to court if necessary to force a man out of jail.

Last December the 46-year-old man was arrested on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. When witnesses failed to appear against the man Feb. 20, Judge Joe B. Brown offered him liberty on a personal recognizance—no-cash-necessary—bond.

The defendant refused, saying he had no place to go.

Friday Judge Brown insisted the man leave jail.

"I am an American citizen," the defendant declared. "And I've got as much right in that jail as anyone."

Judge Brown set the man's case for Wednesday and said if witnesses don't appear he will dismiss the case and if necessary file an eviction suit.

Maine Potatoes Down To 40¢ A Barrel

PRESQUE ISLE, Maine (AP)—Maine potato prices dropped to another new low Friday. Spuds were selling at the warehouses for 40 to 50 cents a barrel, compared with 65-70 in the depression years of the 1930's and $1.85-$2.50 on this date last year.

The Federal-State Market News Service reported that many of the 375 carloads moved Thursday were seed potatoes for planting. Offerings were liberal, the demand moderate and the market rather dull.

Main harvested 57 million bushels of potatoes last year. Still in storage bins — where they will start to sprout and spoil as soon as the weather gets warm — are approximately 17 million bushels. A barrel holds 2 3/4 bushels.

Retail stores at Portland sold potatoes for about a cent a pound today.

Seniors' Play Long-Hallowed In U.S. Theatre

The title of the Manistique High School Senior play, "Lavender and Old Lace," even to a younger generation that knew it only from elders, is hallowed in the history of the American theater.

For years a dramatization of Myrtle Reed's beloved novel toured the country, playing both the large and small cities, and long after it was through, as a play, Alice Hamilton used the famous story as a vaudeville act with terrific success. Now Rose Warner has made a fresh version of this inspiring story, and it will be presented here March 27 at the MHS auditorium by an all-senior cast.

Miss Warner feeling the theatre should both entertain and stimulate, has made a graceful, lively and thoroughly modern play from Miss Reed's novel. The world's chaotic condition creates a need for both physical and mental courage, and it is this courage that "Lavender and Old Lace" supplies through the medium of its philosophy.

"Lavender and Old Lace" is an ambitious play for amateur actors to attempt, and it requires several weeks of sustained rehearsing in order to ring up a curtain on it successfully, Marvin Fredericksen, director, notes.

An atmosphere of excitement and expectancy is anticipated the evening of Saturday, March 27, when the curtain rises and the audience sees Myrtle Reed's famous story come to life again, with the magic that only the theater can supply, he observes.

Supt. A.C. Peterson To Retire After 47 Years

After nearly a half century of service with the Soo Line Railroad, Arthur C. Peterson, superintendent of the Gladstone Division for the last 17 years, will retire at the end of this month.

He will be succeeded by Irving I. Fardal who has been superintendent of the Minnesota Division at Enderlin, N. Dak., since August 16, 1948. Fardal, a former Gladstonian, will be succeeded by John F. Wegner, at present Assistant Superintendent of the Stevens Point Division.

Thirty years following his start as an engine wiper in the roundhouse at Gladstone, Arthur C. Peterson returned as Superintendent of the Gladstone Division, to remain until retirement, which is effective March 31, 1954, at which time Mr. Peterson will round out 47 years of service with the company.

Keeping up with transfers and promotions, he made a circuit of the railroad in the first 30 years, which he says "were the hardest."

After his "break-in" period at Gladstone, he was promoted to roundhouse foreman at Kenmare in August, 1911. Five years later he was transferred to Harvey. Four years later found him at Shoreham and three years following he made his first round trip to Gladstone, this time as Master Mechanic. In June, 1926 he was transferred to Stevens Point as Master Mechanic, and September 1, 1933 went to Superior in the same capacity.

August 1, 1935 Mr. Peterson was promoted to Superintendent of the Winnipeg Division at Thief River Falls, and November 1, 1937 he returned to Gladstone with the appointment of Superintendent of the Gladstone Division.

Two Houghton Players Hurt In Junior Hockey

DETROIT — Two teams from Sault Ste. Marie and two teams from Detroit split four state amateur hockey titles among themselves at Olympia Stadium Sunday night.

The Soo Mohawks had an easy time defending their senior title against the challenging Dearborn Hanses, 7-0. The Sault Ste. Marie Vernors won the juvenile crown by defeating Arrowsmith, Detroit's juvenile champs, 2-1.

Detroit O'Donnell, crippled by an auto accident last week that killed one player and injured three others, went ahead anyway and beat Hancock Laurn Groves 5-2 for the junior title.

Houghton Team Smaller

Detroit Hettiche won the Peeewe title over a smaller Houghton Healey team, in a game that was marred by injuries to two Houghton players.

The Detroiters won 2-1, but Houghton had jumped to a quick 1-0 lead in the first two minutes when Clare Rivette received a possible concussion, after he had scored the goal.

The injury and a later one to Tony Buckovich, who suffered a broken arm, resulted from a change in the rules for the Houghton squad which plays college rules

Tigers Win And Lose In Two Weekend Games

CLEARWATER, Fla. — It's not hard to see that early spring exhibition baseball is a not too precise animal.

Over the weekend, the Detroit Tigers played two ball games against two National League opponents. Saturday they beat Cincinnati 9-5. Sunday they lost to the Philadelphia Phillies 14-11.

The Tigers committed five errors, two in victory, three in defeat. Their pitchers gave up 20 hits, six in victory, 14 in defeat. Tiger batsmen got 30 hits, 17 in victory, 13 in defeat.

Mound Trouble It looked at least at the plate as though the Tigers were holding their own. The trouble appeared to be on the pitching mound and in the field.

In Saturday's Tiger victory, three pitchers, Ted Gray, Steve Gromek and Frank Lary, held Cincinnati to six hits and five runs.

In Sunday's loss for Detroit, three pitchers, Paul Foytack, Milt Jordan and Jim Bunning, gave up 14 hits for 14 runs.

Over the two days, 20 hits off Detroit pitchers brought in 19 runs for the opposition. The difference was not grand slam home runs (there was only one in two days) but instead walks and errors.

Rapid River Blows Huge Lead To Lose Class D Cage Title

Johnson In New Scoring Record

NEGAUNEE — An almost unbelievable reversal of form here Saturday afternoon saw the Mass Rockets wipe out a 17-point deficit and nip the Rapid River Rockets 63-62 for the Upper Peninsula Class D basketball championship.

Rapid River roared out to an early lead in the first period which ended 19-18. They piled it up to 37-23 at the half, and shortly before the intermission boasted a 17-point edge.

Mass began its amazing rally in the third period in which they outscored Rapid River 25-16. Rapid still enjoyed a 53-48 advantage entering the fourth quarter.

Tied At 56-56

With four minutes remaining to be played, Mass pulled into a 56-56 tie and then went ahead for the first time in the game when Ron Antilla scored on a field goal to make it 58-56.

Coach Keith Hinds' Rockets caught on again, 59-59, but Mass went ahead 63-59 on field goals by Dale Blake and Ed Miltu with a minute remaining.

Roger Brannstrom broke through the Mass stall to score a field goal for Rapid and the margin was cut to 63-61. Center Waldon Johnson was fouled by Ron Antilla of Mass and missed a chance to tie it up when he made his first free throw and missed the second with a half-minute remaining in the game.

Kaikko missed four straight free throw attempts for Mass in the final 13 seconds and Rapid had another scoring opportunity when Bob Olson drove in at full speed and shot from the free throw line with five seconds remaining. In the battle for the rebound, Bob Hamilton had his hands on the ball but Kaikko was fouled by Brannstrom with three seconds left.

Sets Scoring Record

Johnson set a new Upper Peninsula scoring record for season and tournament games by clicking for 21 points to increase his total to 603 this season. He is the first Upper Peninsula high school player ever to top 600 in scoring. The old record of 588 was set by St. Joe's Pete Kutches in 1951-52.

Johnson fouled out of action with 13 seconds left to play. He was out of action for a spell in the third period when he had four fouls and Rapid River missed his rebounding and deadly shooting.

Hamilton chipped in 19 points for Rapid River to place second in the scoring column and Olson's play at a guard post was outstanding for the Rockets who finished the current season with 19 victories against three defeats. Mass has an 18-4 mark.

Antilla and Kaikko were scoring twins for Mass, with 23 and 22 points. They paced Mass in the third period with four field goals each.

Rapid River hit on 14 of 24 shots from the free throw line while Mass converted nine of 19.

new record scoring total was posted in regular season and tournament games this season by Rapid River's ace pivotman

Waldon Johnson. Johnson scored 603 points to become the first U. P. cager ever to top the 600-mark. His average for 22

Lakers, Knicks Win Cage Races

(By The Associated Press) The 1953-54 National Basketball Assn. regular season is over after a four and one-half month run and the final standings look familiar—Minneapolis on top in the western division and New York in the eastern.

Minneapolis has won the league playoff championships four times in five years, and it was the second straight year the Knicks have won the eastern division race.

Both now must go through the annual playoffs, which will add some money to the $2,500 each club will share for winning the divisional title. Each of the six clubs won $3,000 for making the playoffs and there are further melons to be cut up for winning the various playoffs.

The eastern playoff round-robin involving New York, Boston and Syracuse begins Tuesday night with Boston playing at New York.

The western playoff with Minneapolis, Fort Wayne and Rochester participating, starts the same night with Fort Wayne playing at Rochester.

ST. FRANCIS WINS

MANISTIQUE — St. Francis cagers defeated St. Anne's of Escanaba by a 32-28 margin with a scoring spurt in the final minute. Donald Dragos led the winners with 11 points while Dubord paced St. Anne's with 10.

Feller Will Fight For Starting Job On Mound

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Almost two decades ago—1936 to be exact—a powerful, fuzzy-cheeked youngster strode into the spring training camp of the Cleveland Indians. Manager Steve O'Neill liked what he saw and that started Bob Feller's career.

Today, 249 victories later, Feller, the oldest major leaguer in point of service, is fighting for a starting job. He'll have a job, all right, but at the moment he doesn't figure as one of the Big Four.

The best guess is that Manager Al Lopez will spot Feller wherever he can. If Rapid Robert doesn't want to do bullpen duty he probably won't be forced to.

Slow Starter

The cuffling he took during his three-inning stint against the New York Giants in Tucson, Ariz., Sunday didn't cause Lopez too much concern. The Giants won the ball game 16-6 and slugged Feller for eight hits and a half-dozen runs. But it was Bob's first outing and veterans sometimes are slow to warm up.

Hal Newhouser, another old-timer, is trying to make a comeback with the Indians and he was equally unimpressive. He gave up 10 hits and another six runs. Newhouser is not under contract.

Speaking of old folks, Sal Maglie, the Giants' 37-year-old right-hander, who has been plagued by assorted ills for the last two seasons, went four innings and was tapped for only two hits.

Braves Win Anyway

The surprising Baltimore Orioles won their ninth victory in 10 starts by downing the San Diego Padres of the Pacific Coast League 10-4. The Orioles backed up their pitchers with four double plays.

Without the services of the injured Bobby Thomson and Eddie Mathews, the Milwaukee Braves collected 17 hits and went on to whip the Cincinnati Redlegs 14-8.

The Brooklyn Dodgers won their fifth straight, defeating the Boston

Red Sox 9-6. Joe Black, a big disappointment last year, allowed only two hits in 5 1-3 innings on the mound.

Heavy Hitters

Two home runs and three triples enabled the Chicago White Sox to defeat the Yankees 7-5. The 23 players used by the Yanks made 15 hits, but the extra base power of the Pale Hose more than offset the rash of blows.

The St. Louis Cardinals scored a 4-2 triumph over the Chicago Cubs with only four hits.

The Philadelphia A's, another undefeated grapefruit league outfit, won No. 5—a 13-3 decision over the winless Washington Senators. The Philadelphia Phillies outlasted the Detroit Tigers 13-11, and the Dodger "B" team whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-5. The Red Sox scrubs 10-.

Surprise Teams Bid For NCAA Cage Title

By SKIPPER PATRICK

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Four surprise teams, whose chances of appearing in collegiate basketball's annual climactic show were considered rather slim, will fight it out for the NCAA championship this weekend.

Coming up from regional play-offs last Saturday are the La Salle Explorers of Philadelphia, Penn State's Nittany Lions, Southern California's Trojans and the Bradley University Braves.

Bradley, which upset Oklahoma A&M 71-57 at Stillwater, Okla., and Southern Cal, 66-65 double overtime victor over Santa Clara at Corvallis, will meet in the first semifinal game Friday night.

Finals On Saturday

Penn State and La Salle clash in the second game the same night. Penn State humbled Notre Dame 71-63 at Iowa City, La Salle got to Navy 64-48 at Philadelphia.

The finals are scheduled in Municipal Auditorium Saturday.

Both Penn State and Bradley are at-large entries.

Of the semifinalists, only La Salle was given much of a pre-tournament buildup. The Explorers were ranked 12th nationally in the Associated Press poll. Bradley, Southern Cal and Penn State didn't make the top 20.

One Overtime Shot

Southern Cal, which lost to Kansas 42-43 in the 1940 finals of the Western championships, took the only shot in the second overtime session at Corvallis and won. After Dick Welsh of USC scored a free throw early in the last session, Santa Clara elected to stall and gamble on one shot. The Broncos never got off a shot.

Top Notchers Tangle In Week's Mitt Slate

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—No champions are in action but plenty of the top contenders will throw leather this week in a fine national boxing program. The four top bouts of the week, all scheduled for network television, shape up as corkers.

They are middleweights Joey Giardello and Willie Troy at Madison Square Garden Friday night, light heavyweights Harold Johnson and Paul Andrews at Chicago Wednesday, bantamweights Nate Prokes and Henry Pappy Gault at Brooklyn tonight and Lightweights Cisco Andrade and Hoase Khalif Saturday night.

Brian is the 20-year old Olympic flyweight champion who moved into the pro limelight with a bang last month by knocking out Billy Peacock to win the North American title in his eighth fight. His record is 7-1. In Gault, of Spartanburg, S. C., he meets the former N. A. titlist.

Their 10 rounder will be telecast by Dumont starting at 9 p. m. CST.

Johnson, winner of 11 straight, is clamoring for a title shot at light heavyweight champion Archie Moore. He ranked as the No. 1 contender with a 47-5 record. In Andrews, he faces a 22-year old prospect from Buffalo, N. Y., who has moved into the No. 9 ranking. Andrews' record is 23-2.

College Miller Tops Journal Meet Runners

By CHRIS EDMONDS

MILWAUKEE (AP)—An Indiana University miller surprised 9,300 track fans Saturday night with a faster time than veteran runners registered in the feature race of the Milwaukee Journal Indoor games.

Hoosier Lowell Zellers won the collegiate mile in 4 minutes, 12 seconds from Sture Landqvist of Sweden, wearing the Oklahoma Aggies' colors, before a near-capacity crowd—at Milwaukee Arena.

Zellers' time, slow by modern standards, still was more than a second faster than that in which Len Truex, ex-Ohio State star, won the feature mile. Truex hit at the tape in 4 minutes 13.4 seconds.

Top performances of the indoor season were turned in by the Rev. Bob Richards in the pole vault and the University of Pittsburgh two-mile relay team. Richards, clearing 15 feet 1/4 inch, was the first man to hit the height this winter although it was the 50th 15-foot clearance in his long career. Pitt's time of seven minutes 39.7 seconds was the fastest of the year.

An Illinois high jumper, Ron Mitchell, went 6 feet 8 3/4 inches to upset national AAU champion Herman Wyatt of Santa Clara, Calif., and Lt. Ken Wiesner, Navy dentist who holds the world record.

Other individual winners were Rich Ferguson of Iowa in the two-mile; Milt Campbell, Indiana freshman, 50-yard high hurdles; Willie Williams, Illinois, 50-yard dash; J. W. Mashburn, Stillwater, Okla., 600-yards, and Eugene Maynard, Illinois, 1,000-yards. Indiana won the one-mile relay and Chicago Loyola the 8-lap team event.

Legislature Suffers With Election Ague

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING—If you are confused by the antics and twirls of the Michigan Legislature this year, remember this: Republican lawmakers have the worst case of election jitters in years.

For the first five years of Gov. Williams' administration, the Republicans in the Legislature tried to act as if he didn't exist. They went along happily manufacturing nice issues for Williams to use in the next campaign—and use 'em he did.

Good Record Needed

Finally, the Republican legislators were convinced that they are, in a way, the show window of their party while there is no Republican governor.

That explains why the Republican Legislature, especially the Senate, has been gyrating so wildly this year.

Republican leaders in the Senate are most anxious, almost frantic, in fact, to hammer out a good record this year which will rob Williams of a lot of talking points in the fall campaigns.

The leaders are younger men than those who controlled the Legislature in past years. They have somewhat more liberal views than their predecessors and are more susceptible to arguments that they must meet the political trends of the day.

At the same time, of course, they have to walk and carry along the old guard, both within the legislature and in the party outside.

Tension In Party

This has created internal stress within state party almost equal to the stress in the party nationally created by the divergent views of the Eisenhower wing and the Isolationist-Hard Dollar wing.

This fact explains almost exactly the unemployment, compensation bill passed by the Senate.

The unemployment compensation bill carries much higher benefit increases than many Republicans believe advisable, and more than many employers want to pay. It also contains what Democrats call "vicious" disqualification provisions and a new method of figuring employer contributions which probably will benefit a majority of the employers.

In other words, it is a compromise between the liberal and conservative wings of the party, satisfactory to neither.

By the same token, it is not satisfactory to labor. The question to be answered in November is whether it is too unsatisfactory to labor—or whether Williams can make it look that way. He certainly will try.

Boner Admitted

The Republicans defeated one lobby control bill this year but passed another, equal to or exceeding the first one in stiffness.

It is no secret that Republican leaders decided they had pulled a political boner by killing the first bill and went for it a second time for purely political reasons. They didn't want Williams saying they were so beholden to big business lobbyists they were afraid to pass the bill.

No session of the legislature in many years appears to be so lobby-ridden as the 1954 session.

The Republican legislature is paying the price of being without a leader in the governor's office for nearly eight years.

A governor can be a powerful force to sustain legislators against the pressures of lobbyists. Most legislators are small men, even as you and I, and need the power and prestige of a governor behind them to find a true course and stick to it. They have not had that in years.

Thus, if you would understand the 1954 Legislature, look to the left-right stresses within the Republican party and the pressures of the lobbyist gallery.

New Super-Fish Will Be Introduced In Lakes Of Ontario

TORONTO (AP)—A new "super" fish will soon be introduced to suitable Ontario waters, the Ontario Legislature's Lands and Forest Committee was informed.

The fish, a cross between the pike and the muskellunge, will combine the best features of both game fish, Dr. W. J. Harkness, head of the Fish and Wild Life division of the Department of Lands and Forests, said.

The division also has originated a cross between the lake and speckled trout and has already introduced it to six lakes in the province. Dr. Harkness said the new fish does not go to such great depths of water as the lake trout.

Three towns in Berkshire, England are named Upper Wallop, Middle Wallop and Nether Wallop.
